

Active: What people/things do

Passive: What happens to / is done to people/things

Stanley Hall in the early 1900s proposed a biogenetic theory of development

A biogenetic theory of development was proposed by Stanley Hall in the early 1900s

Cognitive psychologists describe the mind as a network of mental concepts which are linked by associationistic ties.

The mind is described by cognitive psychologists as a network of mental concepts which are linked by associationistic ties.

The mind is described as a network of mental concepts linked by associationistic ties.